

Dauphine Workshop on Economic Theory

“Recent Advances in Revealed Preference Theory: testable restrictions in markets and games”

November 25-26, 2010

Organization:

- LEDa (Laboratoire d'Economie de Dauphine)
- CEREMADE (Centre de Recherche en Mathématiques d'Aide à la Décision)
- Chair: Françoise Forges (U. Paris-Dauphine).

The confirmed keynote speakers are:

- Donald Brown (Yale University),
- Ivar Ekeland (U. Paris-Dauphine & U. British Columbia)

Topics include:

- testable restrictions in equilibrium models
- consumption and production decisions in strategic environment
- consumption decisions and collective behavior

In order to maximize the scientific interactions between researchers, there will be no parallel sessions so that a limited number of papers will be presented.

Attendees who wish to give a talk are invited to submit a paper by e-mail to:
dauphine.econtheory@gmail.com

The submission deadline is September 1, 2010.

Notice of acceptance will be given by September 15, 2010.

There is no registration fee. Depending on the available funds, financial support will be provided to participants for accommodation and/or transportation.

The workshop will be held at Université Paris-Dauphine, located in Paris downtown.

Scientific Committee of the event: Françoise Forges (chair, U. Paris-Dauphine), Andrés Carvajal (U. Warwick), Arnold Chassagnon (U. Paris-Dauphine), Vincent Iehlé (U. Paris-Dauphine), Enrico Minelli (U. Brescia), Yannick Viossat (U. Paris-Dauphine).

The following institutions have already accepted to provide financial support: Université Paris-Dauphine, CNRS, LEDa, Chaire Ville et Immobilier.